Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Beyaert US patent 6,009,918.

'918 clearly discloses a heddle frame for use in a power loom (claim 10) in figure 1, showing 2 posts, 2 cross-members, each having heddle catch means as claimed. This heddle frame arrangement is also acknowledged as the common prior art structure of heddle frames in general.

'918 also discloses in various embodiments damping means referred to as insets by Beyaert. '918 discloses these insets as separate members or as adhesively bonded or welded to the frame staves of the heddle frame, as claimed. The insets are also disclosed to cover the entire length of the frame stave as claimed.

Since all structure of claim 1 is clearly disclosed the functional recitations with regards to the installation and holding of the heddle on the frame are inherently presented by the structure in '918.

Figures clearly show the inset 35 in various embodiments (figures 4-11) being held in a 'receiver' of a heddle as claimed.

Figure 8 also shows the limitations recited in claims 4 and 5.

In regards to claim 6, rail 6 is disclosed by '918 as affixed by fasteners or screws and detachable collar elements 11 are present to prevent heddles from slipping off.

Clearly these elements disclose the recitations of claim 6. With respect to the "cooperative shaping" limitation, the rails 6 inherently "cooperate" with the cross-members or else they would not fit and/or function. "Cooperative shaping" is an almost unbounded, extremely broad recitation it is also a functional limitation. Since all structure of the claim is present the function is inherently presented by the structure since it is identical to the structure claimed.

Beyaert discloses that all connections for the frame could be either welded or adhesively bonded as claimed.

Figures show the inset in cross-section in all figures and the shape is constant as claimed.

Figures clearly show the rail in various shapes including 'bent' as claimed.
